

Strengthening ties with Industry through Conferences and Professional Talks

With a view to enhancing linkage with industry, CPCE and its educational units of HKCC and SPEED organised a number of conferences and professional talks in Semester Two, 2016/17. Our faculty members and students gained precious insights from the sharing by renowned overseas scholars and seasoned industry practitioners in the fields of healthcare, finance and investment as well as public administration.

CPCE Health Conference 2017

Themed “Healthcare Delivery and Financing Reform: Implications for Business, Healthcare Providers and Patients”, the CPCE Health Conference was held on 16 January 2017. Serving as a platform for promoting research collaboration and scholarly exchange, the Conference gathered the support and sponsorship from 19 organisations in the healthcare and tertiary education sectors, assembling over 50 scholars and experts from Australia, Japan, UK, Canada, the Chinese mainland, Hong Kong, Taiwan and Thailand for presentation of research papers. Over 250 healthcare professionals, academics and students participated in the Conference.

Apart from the plenary sessions, the Conference also featured five parallel sessions to foster discussions on 35 topics based on the themes of Healthcare Reform, Financing and Management, Healthcare Delivery, Education and Training, and Community-based Programmes.

於2017年1月16日舉行的CPCE醫護研討會2017，以「醫護服務及融資改革：對商界、醫護人員及病人的影響」為主題，旨在促進研究合作和學術交流。研討會在19家醫護和教育機構的支持和贊助下，邀請到逾50位來自澳洲、日本、英國、加拿大、中國內地、香港、台灣及泰國的學者和專家發表研究論文，與參與會議的250多位醫護界人員、教員和學生互動交流。

除了主題演講外，研討會還設有五節分組論壇，探討醫護改革、融資及管理、醫護服務、教育培訓和社區為本醫護計劃五大範疇的35項議題。

Workshops on Responsible Investment

On 10 March 2017, two workshops were organised by SPEED in collaboration with the Centre for Social and Environmental Accounting Research (CSEAR), University of St Andrews, the UK. The two workshops, titled “Financial Data Science and Deep Data for Responsible Investors” and “Responsible Investment: Emerging Global Research Agendas on Investing in Renewable and Sustainable Energy” respectively, were supported by a grant from Research Grants Council. The workshops aimed at promoting the sharing of knowledge and research experience on topic of responsible investment among local and international scholars.
